The National Palace of Culture - Congress Centre Sofia (NPC) is one of the largest multi-purpose venues in Bulgaria. It has an area of 123 000 m² on eight floors above ground and three underground levels.

The Palace was officially opened in 1981 to celebrate the 1300th Anniversary of the Bulgarian State. It was designed to host international conventions, summits, official meetings, exhibitions, festivals, concerts and a wide range of other cultural events.

The Palace houses one of the most distinguished Bulgarian collections of visual arts designed by some of the most prominent artists of the country. These monumental works are set into the halls and foyers and are an integral part of NPC conceptual architecture and design.

Nowadays, the National Palace of Culture seeks to give new dynamics to its environment by establishing a diverse contemporary art spaces that are meant to shape Sofia's cultural life.

NPC is situated in the heart of Sofia and is surrounded by a leisure park. The venue is encircled by terraces offering panoramic views over the capital. It is within walking distance to all central places of Sofia. The Bulgaria Square in front of NPC provides access to the subway and other means of public transport.
